None of Us Lives to Self*

"Therefore encourage one another and build one another up, just as you are doing."

1 Thessalonians 5:11 (ESV)

A brick lay in the gutter. Moments before, it had been one of hundreds of brand new bricks on a truck bound for a construction site. But this one had fallen off and had two of its corners battered on its way to the gutter.

The problem was not so much the damage that was sustained but separation from its fellow bricks. You see, a brick's usefulness depends on taking its place among the entire lot to sustain a beautiful retaining wall or side of a building. Alone, it really doesn't have much utility.

Encourage one another and build up each other....

1 Thessalonians 5:11, NRSV

Scripture teaches that the Christ-like life is made possible in no small measure by the edification and "building up" of those of like spirit. Since the beginning, followers of Jesus have been taught to "love one another" and exhibit "brotherly love."

There is more to this idea than merely being agreeable friends. "Edification" and "building up" can often be serious matters. "My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins" (James 5:19-20 ESV).

There could be someone in need of you today.

When free from envy, scorn and pride,
Our wishes all above,
Each can his brother's failings hide
And show a brother's love.

Jim Lane, Elder

Authority to Forgive Sins Mark 2.8 - .12

Now some teachers of the law were sitting there, thinking to themselves, "Why does this fellow talk like that? He's blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

Immediately Jesus knew in his spirit that this was what they were thinking in their hearts, and he said to them, "Why are you thinking these things? Which is easier: to say to this paralyzed man, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up, take your mat and walk'? But I want you to know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins." So he said to the man, 11 "I tell you, get up, take your mat and go home." 12 He got up, took his mat and walked out in full view of them all. This amazed everyone and they praised God, saying, "We have never seen anything like this!"

- Mark 2:8-12 (NIV)

Our world is broken in many ways. This brokenness can be traced back to our desire to be our own gods. When we try to be gods, we sin against the one true God - the LORD we meet in the Bible. Our sin hurts those around us and breaks the relationships we have with each other. Our sin has broken our relationship with the LORD and all of creation around us.

The LORD does not want this brokenness to remain. Jesus came as a human to teach us how to live as the LORD desires us to live. This new and better way to be human begins to restore our relationship with each other and with creation.

Our relationship with the LORD cannot be restored through good behavior; it can only be restored through forgiveness. The Son of Man - Jesus - also came to forgive us! Jesus is the LORD's solution to heal our relationship with Him.

Mark records the above story to show us that Jesus has the power and authority to forgive our sins. Our job is to have faith in Jesus, surrender our will to the LORD and live the forgiven life.

GRACE + PEACE

Special Needs Are Focus of First Ethiopia Trip This Year, Possibly of Second Trip Scheduled This Fall

Meeting the needs of specific groups in different parts of the country was the focus of Habtu Zemech's first trip to Ethiopia this year, and may be the primary focus for his second trip scheduled for Oct. 29-Nov. 16.

He worked through My Neighbor Foundation, which was established by Habtu to finance a wide variety of needs. A report of his work and of the foundation will be the topic of a presentation Sept. 21 at the evening assembly.

A major component of the work last spring was with children affected by club foot. Working in conjunction with the organization CURE Ethiopia, which provides doctors who will perform the corrective surgery without charge, Habtu's organization provides collateral support.

CURE's medical facility is located in the capital city of Addis Ababa. However, nearly all the children afflicted with the club foot problem live in roughly the same region - a phenomenon which has not been explained. This area is in the country, so the children and at least one parent need transportation for the surgery and for the follow-up care, food and shelter while in the city, any needed medications, required special shoes and all related expenses for up to a year. The cost per child is $860, and during the last trip they took care of 9 children.

Habtu also worked with the Wolliso Church of Christ, southwest of Addis Ababa, to provide school supplies and uniforms for 50 students enrolled in three different public schools. It should be noted that 95% of the children helped are orphans who live with some extended family member such as a grandparent. The photos below (clockwise from upper left) show the children waiting to be measured, the process of measuring, manufacturing the outfits and displaying the new outfits. At right are photos of the school supplies and of children in uniforms for other schools.

Hopeful families (above) waiting for help for their children. At right are some of the children helped last spring.

Another major ministry in Ethiopia is for the deaf. The woman in the photo below is Hadara, who is hearing impaired. She has considerable skill with sewing and makes items that she sells in order to help support her family. She now has her own sewing machine and will be able to train others who will receive a machine upon completion of their training.
